NO BEER BY CHRISTMAS

There will be no beer by Christmas. Not real 4%, legalized beer, The House by a vote of 272 to 144 turned down the Garner Repeal measure Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock, after 40 minutes of pro and 40 minutes con debate. It sounded the death knell for repeal during the short session, and definitely carried the fight into the regular spring session. The vote: For repeal, D. 169, Rep. 102, Farmer-Labor 1. Against, D. 44, R. 100, total 144.

Raids on several places in Sikeston Thursday last week unfruitful for a Federal Prohibition Agent, assisted by Tom Scott, Sheriff of Scott County and Walter Kendall, chief of police.

An even dozen Southeast Missourians were arrested Friday on dry law charges by fifteen agents in raids staged in three Southeast Missouri Counties. The list of confiscated or destroyed property included 85 gallons of home brew beer, 14 gallons of red wine, 58 gallons of whisky, 150 gallons of mash and one still. The raiding party was headed by O. H. Cornelius of Cape Girardeau, assisted by officers from St. Louis and Poplar Bluff.

NOTHING but one-hundred-million-year-old Bradford-Allegany crude is used in the manufacture of Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. To say that, is to say Sinclair Pennsylvania is made 100% from the richest, most expensive raw materials ever put into a Pennsylvania grade motor oil.

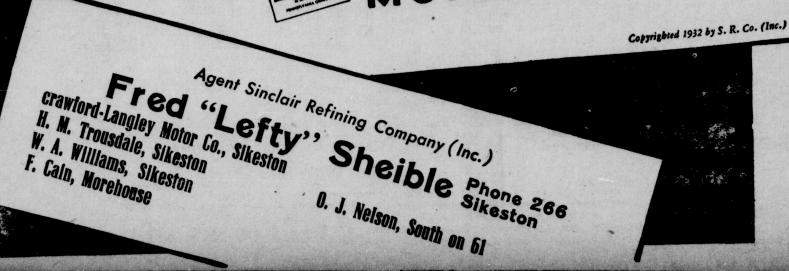

For Bradford-Allegany crude oil is a product of the Devonian Age—that wonderful age in earth's long history when heat and pressure were most perfect for the forming of crude oil. Other ages have lest oil deposits in Pennsylvania, but none of them have left crude of such sheer lubricating qualitywitness the fact that every barrel of Bradford-Allegany crude commands an extra price!

But even Nature needs aid sometimes. In process of manufacture, Sinclair Pennsylvania is not only de-waxed-it is also freed from non-lubricating petroleum jelly, a process which requires chilling the oil down to as low as 60° F. below zero.

Convince yourself—try a crankcaseful of Sinclair Pennsylvania. Observe how it stands up-how, at draining time, it comes out of your crankcase almost as good as it went in-positive, visible proof of protection for the last mile as well as the first!

Note: For those who prefer a Mid-continent oil we also sell Sinclair Opaline, blended from the oldest Mid-continent crudes, de-waxed and also freed from petroleum jelly.

Raids on several places in Sikeston Thursday last week proved unfruitful for a Federal Prohibition Agent, assisted by Tom Scott, Sheriff of Scott County and Walter Kendall, chief of police.

An even dozen Southeast Missourians were arrested Friday on dry law charges by fifteen agents in raids staged in three Southeast Missouri Counties. The list of confiscated or destroyed property included 85 gallons of home brew beer, 14 gallons of red wine, 58 gallons of whisky, 150 gallons of mash and one still. The raiding party was headed by O. H. Cornelius of Cape Girardeau, assisted by officers from St. Louis and Poplar Bluff.

Five of the alleged offenders were arrainged before John A. Ferguson, U. S. Commissioner at Cape Girardeau, and the other seven before Houston H. Buckley and six ounces of whisky

All of the prisoners pleaded first offense with the exception of Mrs. Ruby Farrell, who in 1924 and 1925 pleaded guilty to liquor offenses under the name of Miss Ruby King. She was arrested at Oran on charges of sale and possession. A total of 37 quarts of of possession of 118 pints of home of possession of 118 pints of home beer, 18 gallons of mash and 5 gallons of red wine were found on the premises, according to ofbeer and three ounces of whisky. A contemporary writer advances the thought that the troubles of railroads cannot be readily solved because the truck lobby is as strong now as the lobby of the roads formerly was. We are rather of the opinion that it is another case of deadlocked lobbies. Arkansas and Tennessee railroad anti-truck legislation has reached the point where the individual trucker has no chance at all, and organized truckers are fighting for recognition. We are a strange We squawk our heads off 'personal liberty' when some real or imaginary regulation touches our person or business. Yet as a general rule the American public has swallowed the pro paganda of paid railroad publicity agents whole, regarding the in justice of trucking in competitio with railroads using State-con structed, and State-maintained highways. Yet not one word said about the rail right-of-way being donated in the first place b our paternalistic government, and in recent months at least, practically maintained, by gigantic doles from the R. F. C. Taxes, the other point of the roads, is like wise shallowed. The inequality lies not so much in the amoun paid by the railroads as compared with the individual truckers, as with the system of taxation self. Try and recall if you can the columns of paid and free advertising broadcast by the rail lines previous to the bus-truck fight on this one point-the unjustness of the present taxation system. Railroads, like farmers and small property owners, by the very nature of their business, have a are hoping we may be able to great deal of exposed real estate and physical rolling stock and equipment which fortunately or unfortunately comes under scrutiny by the tax assessor. The railroads, however, unlike the farmer and small home owners, are backed by billions of dollars of invisible (as far as taxes are concerned) of common, and preferred stock, bonds and other preferred instruments of finance. Whether or not these are ALL included in the several tax items usually listed by the railroads, is a matter of conjecture only. Getting down to essentials, there is something wrong. Both sides are claiming much, and are accusing the other usual, and, whether some of the the slump in trade which has affected every line of business; whether or not that decrease in net tonnage and travel is predicated entirely upon the lowered tempo of business and social life; whether or not many of the ills will disappear when business does arise and stretch its way out of its present nightmare—these are

While the Tyrannasaurs battled in PENNSYLVANIA

JOTHING but one-hundred-million-year-old N Bradford-Allegany crude is used in the manufacture of Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. To say that, is to say Sinclair Pennsylvania is made 100% from the richest, most expensive raw materials ever put into a Pennsylvania grade motor oil.

For Bradford-Allegany crude oil is a product of the Devonian Age-that wonderful age in earth's long history when heat and pressure were most perfect for the forming of crude oil. Other ages have left oil deposits in Pennsylvania, but none of them have left crude of such sheer lubricating qualitywitness the fact that every barrel of Bradford-Allegany crude commands an extra price!

But even Nature needs aid sometimes. In process of manufacture, Sinclair Pennsylvania is not only de-waxed-it is also freed from non-lubricating petroleum jelly, a process which requires chilling the oil down to as low as 60° F. below zero.

Convince yourself—try a crankcaseful of Sinclair Pennsylvania. Observe how it stands up-how, at draining time, it comes out of your crankcase almost as good as it went in-positive, visible proof of protection for the last mile as well as the first!

Note: For those who prefer a Mid-continent oil we also sell Sinclair Opaline, blended from the oldest Mid-continent crudes, de-waxed and also freed from petroleum jelly.

ANY OIL WOULD BE BETTER OIL IF GERM PROCESSED

Through deep snow drifts that blanketed Wolf Creek Pass, 10,800 feet above sea level in Colorado's Rockies, a great V-type snow plow doggedly pushed its way. A whirring rotary plow spouted clouds of snow, clearing the roadway. And soon, despite temperatures daily below zero, workers of Liberty Truck & Parts Co., of Denver, had opened the 15-mile road. "We used Conoco Germ Processed Motor

The way the world wags at present, we pay from $1.00 to $100 weekly or monthly in taxes, know-ing darn well that there is not one chance in a billion of winning it back. Automobiles are the most high ly taxed articles in existence. The manufacturer tacks on manufacturers, income, corporation, real estate and other taxes when he sells it to the distributor. Another flock of taxes are hiked on by that firm to cover its expenses Then come constant taxes in the form of State license, wheel, (also known as city taxes) taxes on tires, gasoline, oil, until finally some authority has estimated that
